Ecological psychology is a term that has been applied by three different psychologists to their distinct, independent theoretical approaches and associated research programs: the perceptual psychologist James J. Gibson (1903-1979), the child/social psychologist Roger G. Barker (1903-1990), and the child psychologist, Urie Bronfenbrenner (1917-2005). Roughly contemporaries, all three developed their individual approaches over the second half of the twentieth century.
