This carving axe, with its design based on traditional Swedish carving techniques, is good for roughing large carvings and architectural work. It has a 4 1/2" edge that is asymmetrically ground with a right-handed bias, a 14 1/2" long oiled hickory handle and a 2 lb head.

Gränsfors Swedish Carving Axe - Lee Valley Tools

Wille's book, Swedish Carving Techniques, is an inimitable reference on the tools and the techniques of carving bowls and spoons in the Swedish style. What this film offers is not only the ability to see the author demonstrate the techniques, but perhaps an even more valuable insight into the whole of Wille's carving process - from a walk in the woods through the daily use of the finished spoon at the table.
