The Greatest Power

A great power is a sovereign state that is recognized as having the ability and expertise to exert its influence on a global scale. Great powers characteristically possess military and economic strength, as well as diplomatic and soft power influence, which may cause middle or small powers to consider the great powers' opinions before taking actions of their own.

Amazingly, the Scottish Power reviews were somehow worse than last year, as its customer score dropped from 54% to 51%. It's the second year that all of the big six have been down at the bottom of the table - it seems the UK's biggest energy suppliers aren't learning lessons and taking notes from the high-ranking independents.
